

May 2021 Newsletter

UNSUSTAINABLE. UNSAFE. UNFAIR. UNPRECEDENTED.

Across Cambridgeshire & Peterborough, GPs and practices are under unprecedented pressure:

Key Facts – March 2021*

Number of appointments: 461,859 (equivalent to 46% of population)

Number of Face-to-Face appointments: 258,691 (56%)

Patients seen on the same day: 54%

Patients seen in less than a week: 84%

Patients seen in less than 14 days: 92%

Only 2.67% Non-attendance rate - 97.3% appointments attended

In addition, over 90,000 Covid vaccinations were delivered by Cambridgeshire & Peterborough GPs & their Practice teams in March – in total over HALF A MILLION patient appointments that month

Don't believe the media spin.

*NHS Digital <https://digital.nhs.uk/data-and-information/publications/statistical/appointments-in-general-practice/march-2021> April data to be published 11.06.2021

Key Messages

- GPs and their practice teams are delivering a far greater number of consultations now than they did in the winter peak of January 2020 – and they have been working hard throughout the pandemic
- This not just due to the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, but also the major NHS backlog of patients waiting for treatment, combined with the lowest numbers of GPs per capita in decades
- This is on top of the GP-led COVID vaccination programme which has been hugely successful
- It is unsustainable, unsafe, and unfair for GPs and their teams, whether in practices, urgent care centres or other services, to be working such excessive hours at such intensity
- This is putting patient care at risk
- GPs are breaking - at the expense of their own physical, mental, social and families' health

Face-to-Face appointments:

Cambridgeshire & Peterborough GP practices saw 258,691 patients face to face in March. A doctor's first duty is to do no harm. Practices must, therefore, take all steps possible to deliver care that is safe for their patients and protects their staff. Social distancing, infection protection and control measures are still applicable, so patients should only receive a face-to-face appointment if they NEED one, not simply because they demand one. Many surgeries have restricted and unventilated reception areas – these are not yet safe for patients to walk-in without an assessment. Everyone must be triaged.

Patient Safety:

Practices are already working well beyond their safe daily limits – the impact of this on patient care is not yet fully appreciated or recognised. GPs and their practices, with the support of GPC England, and Cambs LMC, should continue to deliver care to their patients in the way they determine that best protects and cares for their population.

Cases of the B.1.617.2 variant in the UK are rising exponentially, having risen by more than 160% in the past seven days. It is this clinical context, that should determine the key priorities for General Practice in the coming days and weeks, not false and dangerous politically-driven, media-fuelled edicts.

Please support your GP and practice team at this difficult time.

GPC ENGLAND VOTES TO CEASE ALL NEGOTIATIONS WITH NHS ENGLAND

BMA, GPC & CAMBS LMC RESPONSE TO THAT LETTER

On 20 May, GPC England considered and voted on a confidence motion, following the publication of letter BO497 on 13 May 2021. Dr Katie Bramall-Stainer, Chief Executive of Cambs LMC, said: "On behalf of Cambs LMC and general practice across Cambridgeshire and Peterborough, I am relieved that the BMA is taking action as the profession's Trade Union to defend GPs and our staff in the face of relentless morale-sapping and destructive missives from NHS England.

"This episode was not the first time during the pandemic that GPs have been given guidance by NHS England instructing us to work in a particular way, then found ourselves subject to public statements decrying such practices from the very same commissioners.

"We are all at our wits end. After general practice staff across Cambridgeshire & Peterborough have shown our commitment to patient care throughout the pandemic: working at levels which well-exceed our full capacity; often making personal sacrifices for our patients' safety at the cost of our own; it is outrageous to criticise our adaptability and agility. Rather, NHS England should join us in praising the diligence and commitment of doctors, nurses, practice managers, HCAs, pharmacists and all of the other essential members of the general practice team.

"With the extraordinary level of demand practices are currently experiencing showing no sign of reducing, NHS England should be supporting and developing good general practice care for the benefit of patients, and our already exhausted and increasingly burned-out workforce, rather than pandering to ill-informed media agendas.

The Motion

Proposed by GPC Contracts & Regulation policy leads, Dr Katie Bramall-Stainer and Dr Julius Parker:

GPC England is outraged by NHS England and NHS Improvement's lack of understanding of the pressures facing General Practice and:

i) Calls for formal BMA action by escalating concerns about NHS England's apparent lack of knowledge of the applicable contracts and regulations relating to the delivery of General Practice services

PASSED UNANIMOUSLY

ii) Seeks both senior explanation and public action from the Department of Health and Social Care in view of the unacceptable decision to publish letter BO497 on 13 May 2021

PASSED UNANIMOUSLY

iii) Has no confidence in the Executive Directors of NHS England

PASSED NEM CON (NO VOTES AGAINST) WITH TWO ABSTENTIONS

iv) Calls upon the Chair of BMA U.K. Council to support the Chair of GPC England in demanding an urgent meeting with the Secretary of State for Health & Social Care, to discuss the spiralling crisis in General Practice

v) Calls for GPC England's Executive to immediately cease all formal meetings with NHS England until a motion is brought back to GPC England by the Executive, requesting a vote on their recommendation that sufficient steps have been taken to restore the Committee's confidence in the Executive Directors of NHS England, to justify the resumption of such meetings.

COMPLETE OUR ACCESS & DEMAND SURVEY MONKEY SNAPSHOT - NOW

We need better data around your access and your demand to evidence the pressures you are under to the CCG, NHSE, local Trusts, CQC, Healthwatch, to patients, and to the wider public. Help us to help you.

Over the next few weeks, we want to produce a series of support and guidance resources to help you to:

- Define what an unacceptable and dangerous workload looks like
- Push back against unacceptable workload demands and workload shift
- Help you to work collaboratively at an ICS level to introduce a nationwide 'OPEL alert' system for use by practices, supported by your LMC
- Help you to deal with any vexatious abuse or complaints from patients.

But we need your help. So help us to help you. Complete ONE RESPONSE PER PRACTICE to our Access and Demand Survey NOW: <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/PXCX2YB>

ADVICE Safety First:

Too many of us are functioning at or beyond the limits of safety. This is unacceptable and cannot continue. It is not possible for practices to continue to deliver all that is expected of them. It was so before the pandemic, and it most certainly is not so now.

You have the flexibility to manage and deliver your essential services in a manner determined by your practice, taking into account your capacity and workload pressures, in order to provide a safe service to your patients that is consistent with your duty of care to your staff, yourselves and each other.

The updated standard operating procedure (SOP) published last week is guidance. Where there is conflict and confusion between the guidance and the Contract Regulations, default to the Contract Regulations. In other words, stick to the terms of your contract.

- Ensure access to your practice via telephone or online, with a Covid-safe open reception
- Deliver face-to-face appointments based upon assessment of clinical need following careful triage
- Enable On-line/email access for a proportion of your appointments
- Enable a discretionary e-consultation (or equivalent) platform, during core hours Mon-Fri 08:00-18:30
- Ensure your services are clearly shared on your practice website
- Done that? Good. You are complying with your contract.

ADVICE Online Consulting Tools:

Before the pandemic, as part of the 2019 GP contract deal (paragraph 5.10 (i)) GPC England agreed that it would eventually become contractual for practices to offer online consultations during core hours. This agreement has not yet been added to the contract regulations, so is not currently a contractual requirement.

However, GPC England also agreed that practices should offer online consultations as early as possible, provided that the necessary infrastructure is in place, but it would not become a requirement until it is entered into the contract regulations. It is therefore for practices to determine how best they use online consultation systems, including what hours they are available, and they should try to use them in such a way that helps with triage and workload management, enabling the delivery of a safer and more accessible service to all their patients.

Therefore, we can reassure practices that they are under no contractual obligation to provide access to these platforms outside the core hours of 08:00-18:30 Mon-Fri. Furthermore, until the GMS Regulations are amended accordingly, practices are under no contractual obligation to provide online consulting platforms at all if they do not wish to.

Online platforms, when used well, can be helpful. When simply opening more lanes on a congested motorway of demand, they can feel dangerous. We recommend you think very carefully about their use out of hours and where patients care should be taking place at those times. Our CCG is taking a very sensible view around this too.

Where deactivating these platforms is proving technically difficult (E.g: from the provider end), practices may wish to simply remove the link on their website as a temporary measure, but we recommend contacting the CCG IT team first.

DIGITAL ACCESS

FLOODGATES OPEN TO PATIENT DEMAND

It's nothing short of a miracle that the UK has managed to keep healthcare free at the point of access. With staff costs accounting for around half of all NHS spending, this has been possible only because the true cost of healthcare has been heavily subsidised by the NHS teams that aren't watching the clock or invoicing for all of their hours - but are simply staying, until the work is done.

In general practice, where over 90% of patient contacts take place, GPs have been accustomed to working 12+ hour days. Despite this, before the pandemic the average wait time for a routine GP appointment was over two weeks. But with Coronavirus, we switched almost overnight to a digital first consulting system that has given patients greater access to GPs and their teams than ever before.

What this has unearthed, is that healthcare was never "free": patients were previously paying, not in £££s but in time and inconvenience, to access their GP. The 8 am frenzy to call the practice, the long wait on the phone, the days or weeks it then took to get an appointment, the need to take time off work to attend—these collectively worked to keep demand down - by putting people off accessing their GP, unless they really needed to.

Online access to GPs has removed many of these barriers: giving the perception that GP supply is limitless when this couldn't be further from the truth. Not surprisingly, GPs are crying out in distress as the digital front door has opened the floodgates to supply-induced patient demand, with some patients submitting multiple e-consultations in a 24-hour period, often for low level problems that they might never have consulted their GP about previously.

This level of reliance on GPs may not be good for the individual or for population health, particularly as GPs report that patients who are more seriously unwell are now finding access more difficult. With funding constraints as they are, we need to be honest about the type of healthcare service we can offer—one that's not based on convenience but is limited to meeting patient need.

The old system was imperfect, but it did put a cost on access, which deterred patients from contacting their GP unless they really needed to. This may be an unpopular view, but unlimited online access to your GP in an already underfunded healthcare system is simply not viable: the economics don't stack up, and GPs can't subsidise healthcare any further by working longer hours or by fitting in more patient contacts than they already do.

CCG REVIEWED CLINICAL POLICIES

GATEWAY MESSAGE ON 25 MAY 21 @ 14:57

The CCG has routinely reviewed some of its clinical policies, most of which have minor changes or amendments in line with national guidance or policies. Here is the link to the CCG web site page to access all policies and referral proforma. We draw your attention particularly to the edited policy below:

Open/Upright MRI Lower Clinical Priority Policy: In line with LMC guidance to GPs regarding prescribing of sedation for patients referred for MRI who are anxious, the policy has been edited to remove the use of sedation and replaced with psychological measures, such as reassurance and explanation, and specific treatments for anxiety from a therapist. Reference to visual aids has also been removed.*

GENERAL PRACTICE FOR PLANNING AND RESEARCH

DATA PROVISION NOTICE TO UNDERPIN THE EXTRACTION OF GENERAL PRACTICE DATA

NHS Digital (NHSD), on 12th May 2021, notified all GP Practices of the rollout of a Data Provision Notice (DPN) of GP Data for Planning and Research (GPDPR).

Key documents/links

- RCGP/BMA statement
- Data Provision Notice \(DPN\)
- Privacy statement
- Patient information on GPDPR
- Transparency notice
- Type 1 opt-out form
- Next steps for GPs

This is a planned replacement for the GPES (GP extraction service) to collect data for planning and research from general practices in England. This data collection mechanism will, in time, become the only one that GPs need to comply with when sharing data for secondary uses, although they may wish, and they are entitled, to continue sharing data for secondary uses through pre-existing or new channels where there is a clear and lawful basis for doing so.

The BMA and RCGP have issued a statement on this and note that it is a legal obligation for practices to comply with the DPN. NHS Digital have a page on their website which provides details on the programme and contains GP and patient facing documents (linked above) which explain what is changing.

The first collection will begin on the 1st July 2021 as per the DPN, allowing six full weeks (plus an extra seventh week) to ensure patients have the opportunity to exercise a Type 1 opt out, should they wish to do so.

'GP Practices will be sent an invitation to comply with the Data Provision Notice via their GP system supplier. The exact method, form and timing of this invitation will vary by system supplier. However, the invitation will include instructions on how to comply with the DPN, this is a simple and straight forward task. GP system suppliers will commence extractions for individual General Practices who have responded to their system supplier to confirm they are complying with this Notice and provide this data to NHS Digital seven weeks from the date of issue of this Notice, from 1st July 2021.'

Patients have the right to exercise a type-1 opt-out to ensure their data is not collected as part of GPDPR and should do so before the first collection to be certain it is processed in time, it is important that where a Type 1 output has been received by the practice, that these are recorded as quickly as possible.

Practices may wish to proactively engage with patients to make them aware of their right to opt out. NHS Digital have linked this form with the instruction to patients to fill it out and return it to their practice, should they wish to opt out. This could be sent in a number of ways, including via SMS or email.

In terms of next steps for GP practices in England, the following landing page details this here. We have listed out the next steps for you as a practice

1. Comply with DPN
2. Update your Privacy notice
3. Consider as a practice if you will proactively be contacting patients to inform them of what is changing
4. Register type1 opt outs in a timely fashion (codes are available here).

PATIENT REGISTRATION

CONTRACTUAL DUTY FOR PRACTICES AND GP ACCESS CARDS FOR PATIENTS

A helpful reminder of the rules regarding patient registration on GP lists. In short, the main principle is that anyone, regardless of nationality or residential status, may register and consult with a GP without charge.

You will find various patient registration advice pages on our website here: <https://cambslmc.org/patient-registration/>. You will find more detail relating to:

- Duty to provide emergency treatment
- Registering without proof of identity or address
- Tourists and overseas visitors
- Declining patient registration
- Homeless patients

TRANSGENDER HEALTH SERVICE

EAST OF ENGLAND PILOT

We have received notice of a Transgender Health Service pilot about to be launched across our region. We will be in contact with NHS England to discuss this, as what appears to be being offered is not the properly commissioned specialist service that we believe this cohort of patients requires and deserves.

The office regularly receives GP queries regarding the prescribing and monitoring responsibilities associated with the safe management of patients. Our advice, as is true for any specialist treatment, is that GPs should only prescribe if they are familiar with the patient, the condition, and the medication to know it is in the patient's best interests.

GPs can be guided by advice from specialists or other healthcare professionals but must take responsibility for their own prescriptions, given it is they who will be signing them. Do you have a shared care agreement in place, for example?

In the interim, the lack of a properly commissioned service pushes patients into paying large amounts of money to private providers who promise the world, but then just write "GP to prescribe." It is our view that if approached by private providers to assume ongoing prescribing responsibility, GPs must do their due diligence of that provider to ensure they are reputable. E.g.: Is the referring specialist a fully registered business within the UK, indemnified to conduct specialist treatment? Are their healthcare professionals fully registered with the GMC?
